A New Plan-and a Bad One.

The Parkersburg Times, which took very lofty ground a few weeks ago on the question of enlarging the suffrage, visibly yields to the pressure of common sense. By now indicating its willingness to see an amendment made to the constitution, the Times virtually admits its former position of hostility to all progress untenable. The signiticauce of this move is not so much in the length of the step as in the fact that it is a step forward. The amendment proposed does not commend itself to us as the best or even a tolerable one; but as a recognition of the fact that the iron clad policy has had its day, we are glad to see it put forward in that quarter. The plan now proposed by the Times is that heretofore advocated by Democrats who in one or two sessions, the Monroe Republican, viz, that the matter of restoring the ballot to the exrebels shall be vested wholly in the is that the constitution shall be so The Republican party can maintain itamended that the first section of the self by no such devices.
